CONFESSIONS OF A GUIDE BOOK AUTHOR

Ward Cameron is a naturalist, historian, author and storyteller. He has spent almost two decades showing visitors the riches of western Canada. As an author, his titles include "Canmore and Kananaskis - Best Hikes Best Activities", "Mountain Bike! The Canadian Rockies" and "Mountain Bike! Southwestern British Columbia". Ward's photographs have also been widely published.

During the summer of 2001, Ward designed the TransRockies Challenge, a 7-day, 600 km mountain bike race billed as the toughest race on the continent. As the course designer, Ward personally mapped the entire route. This could only be done the hard way, by spending many long days alone in the wilderness. With over 9,000 m (30,000 ft) of elevation change, this race will push the best riders in the world to the edge of endurance and beyond.

Ward's web site, MountainNature.com, is the largest online guide to the plants, animals, birds and landforms of the Rockies. It is recommended by Canadian Geographic Magazine, Kananaskis Country, the Federation of Alberta Naturalists, the Green Pages, and the Global Outdoor and Environmental Education Council.
